Garden Grove Firefighters Going Bald For Childhood Cancer Research

Garden Grove Fire Fighters and the Career Academy of Beauty will be teaming up on March 15, 2017 to raise money for the Saint Baldrick's Foundation for childhood cancer research. Fire fighters will have their heads shaved voluntarily to raise money for this worthy cause, and they are inviting everyone to come out to show support. They will have their heads shaved by the career academy's students at 7:00 a.m.

According to the foundation's website, many adult cancers can be detected early, while with 80% of kids, the cancer has already spread to other areas of the body by the time it is diagnosed. "The money raised is critical to continued research to fight this disease. We hope you can all come out, and help support a worthy cause," said fire chief, Tom Schultz.
