I received several emails with video attachments from [redacted] on August 8 which included some video and some video of sounds only heard from the driveway of his own residence. Videos were of different dates including June 16, August 6 and one from today. Display images below Dear Ms. Cramer, Here is a video where you can see him ACTUALLY working on a car, this was taken today August 8th. I have three more videos where you can see and hear the body work going on.

There wasn't a police report filed for this day since he decided to work between 9:00am-12 with a two hour break so i could not make use of the court order which states he is not to make loud noise between 12 and 2. In the final picture where a tarp is missing, you can clearly see his personal vehicle which he moved into place after moving out the white car he was working on yesterday. Once again I thank you for assistance and time with this matter.

Unfortunately you cant' see much since he has put tarps in an effort to hide the cars better. I will also be sending you the pictures and video from yesterday and one picture from today. I hope that this is valid proof, thank you again for your assistance and time.

CP, left a message yesterday stating the auto body work is occurring in the rear portion of the driveway at this address. He called again today around 12 noon and said he has been painting since yesterday. I asked if the work was going on right now. He said it was. While I was walking towards the CP's house westbound I met with the CP at his residence at 12692 Paloma Ave., one house east of the subject residence. From this property I could not see onto the subject property as there was a large wall approximately 7 ft. high in the back yard. then wanted me to use a small step stool inside the garage to see over the structure. I advised I could not do this and at this time I could not see evidence of auto body or auto repair even though I did smell a paint odor while I was walking towards his residence.
