Remembering The Zlaket Family

In 1927, two years before the Great Depression, Leo and Mary Zlaket opened a general store, Zlaket's Market, on Main Street, then part of Euclid Street.

The couple raised their three children, George, Yvonne, and Leo Jr., in an apartment built above the market, with their sons working in the store.

From 1950 through 2014, proprietorship of the business passed through family generations, who expanded the store offerings, yet continued to maintain the high-quality standards and hometown feel for which it was known.

At the close of the business in 2014, Zlaket's Market established its legacy as Garden Grove's oldest family-owned-and-operated business. Throughout its 87-year history, Zlaket's Market earned countless accolades, supported numerous community organizations, and became the community's most iconic local business.

The Garden Grove Downtown Business Association honors Zlaket's Market and the Zlaket Family for their enduring loyalty, passion, and contributions to this city.

On November 14, 2023, the Garden Grove City Council and Garden Grove Downtown Commission honored Zlaket's Market – Garden Grove's oldest family-owned-and-operated business – and the Zlaket family with a plaque dedication. The plaque is located in front of Phin Smith coffee shop, at 12921 Main Street, where Zlaket's Market stood for 87 years.

Corporal Han Cho Plaque Dedication

On November 28, 2023, the City and Garden Grove Police Department held a memorial bridge and plaque dedication for Corporal Han Cho, who passed away on August 7, 2023, from an off-duty traffic collision. The plaque is located at the Garden Grove Community Meeting Center, at 11300 Stanford Avenue.
